Following Russia's declaration that the DPR and LPR are independent states, the grand question becomes:

What Does Russia Claim as the Borders of the DPR and LPR?

Or Does Russia Claim that the entirety of the Donetsk and Luhansk Oblasts are the DPR and LPR? Even Areas that are WAY behind the current front lines?

This is how Russia is invading Ukraine RIGHT NOW. Russia claims they are sending troops on a peacekeeping mission to the DPR and LPR, but if you actually ask them "Since you claim the Minsk agreements are finished, what are the borders of the DPR and LPR?" Russian officials avoid answering this question because their definition of those borders almost certainly includes the rest of Donetsk and Luhansk Oblasts.

Does Russia Claim that the DPR and LPR are here?

GASLIGHTING RED FLAGS

You apologize without knowing what you (sorry) did wrong.

They give you affection... then abruptly yank it away.

When you try to explain how you feel, they're dismissive. You are "overreacting" or "too sensitive."

There is an imbalance of power.

They assign motives to your actions that are the opposite of your intentions.

Most interactions leave you feeling small or ashamed.

They insist it didn't happen that way.

~~Yes.~~
~~Maybe.~~
I don't know.

You find yourself questioning your beliefs & opinions. If your point of view doesn't match theirs, it's wrong.

You edit every word before you speak it, changing any thought that they could possibly misconstrue.

@introvertdoodles

COMMON GASLIGHTING PHRASES

YOU'RE OVERREACTING

YOU'RE SO DRAMATIC

THIS IS YOUR PROBLEM TO DEAL WITH

WHY WOULD YOU THINK THAT?
WHAT DOES THAT SAY ABOUT YOU?

CAN YOU HEAR YOURSELF?
IT DIDN'T HAPPEN THAT WAY

IT WAS A JOKE.
HAVE A SENSE OF HUMOUR

YOUR EMOTIONS ARE YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

HAZEL MEAD
I NEVER SAID THAT

YOU'RE SO INSECURE

HOLY CRAP, I'M RAISING A POLITICIAN.

WHAT IS GASLIGHTING?

It is a psychological manipulation strategy that is used to influence, intimidate or gain power over someone. It can make the victim doubt their own thoughts, emotions and reality.

SIGNS

- Constantly doubt own judgments.
- Lack of self-confidence.
- Poor self-esteem.
- Issues with self-identity.
- Inability to make basic decisions.
- Engage in self-blame, self-criticism.

COPING

- Gain a new perspective.
- Don't buy their lies.
- Focus on the truth.
- Don't defend them.
- Don't use logic with the abuser.
- Walk away.

TECHNIQUES

- Countering
It involves the abuser questioning the authenticity of the victim's memories.
- Denial
In this the abuser may completely deny the truth and make the victim question their memory.
- Withholding
It involves the abuser pretending not to understand what the person being abused is trying to say.
- Diverting
It challenges the victim's credibility by assuming that they have a certain idea from others or are being brainwashed by their family or friends.
- Trivializing
In this the abuser makes the victim feel that their thoughts and emotions have no value by belittling them.

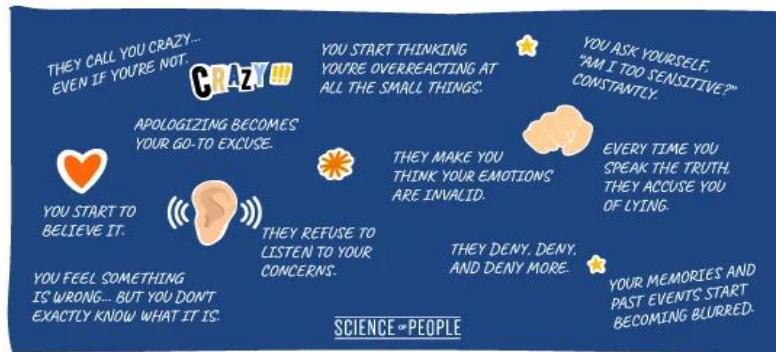

What Gaslighting Looks Like

Gaslighting is a form of abuse and manipulation concentrated on making someone doubt their reality. @BlessingManifesting

- They deny they said or did something even when you have proof.
- They accuse you of doing things that you know they themselves have done.
- They turn others against you to take away your support system.
- They tell you that you are crazy.
- You are never right.

As taken from a random assortment of domestic abuse prevention websites

10 SIGNS YOU'RE BEING GASLIGHTED

THE SIGNS OF GASLIGHTING

Gaslighting is a form of manipulation and abuse concentrated on making someone doubt reality.

Blatant lying or constant coverups.

Actions contradict words.
Broken promises.

Your self-esteem slowly erodes away & you begin to question what is real.

Denying conversations or events ever happened.

Feeling like you have to defend reality.

Manipulating others to see you differently.

Uh, hey Russia, what's going on?

Oh whatever do you mean, tovarich?

Umm, well, remember Ukraine? Ya know, the nation that you invaded a couple of years ago?

You have over 200,000 troops on the border of that country, and we and some of the others here in Europe are kinda worried that you might try to invade again

Hmm, that doesn't seem like it's true.

This is preposterous! It's just a training exercise!

You are increasing tensions, you are foolish, this is just ridiculous American propaganda!

Oh, by the way, we just authorized the invasion of Ukraine.

Russia's Rhetoric Over the Past Few Months

Which Narrative is it, Putin?

Russia's Dilemma

1. Russia Has Been Planning this Invasion for years, and lying about it the entire time.

OR

2. Russia has completely changed her mind and is now devoted to defending the independence of the DPR and LPR against NATO aggression...oh would you look at that, 200,000 troops on Ukraine's border. That'll be handy.

Putin's switch to supporting the DPR and LPR is a classic gaslighting move to confuse us, and make us forget events that literally occurred two days ago. Instead of commenting on the shift in narrative (this shift being the smoking gun), everyone now accepts the narrative of "oh, alright, Putin is only sending in troops to support areas Russia has already invaded"

When people should really be asking:

WAIT A MINUTE, I THOUGHT THIS WAS ALL AN EXERCISE?

“Ukraine? Those allegations are misinformation, my son did nothing wrong!”

“uh, sir, they mean the war with Russia”

“Russia...ya know...I tell ya...the thing
Jack...invasion...February 16th!”

“Sweet, another distraction from our illegitimate totalitarian regime. Nice.”

“Hey remember how bad the Afghanistan withdrawal was, and how we left 9,000 Americans behind?....Hold my beer”

-Blinken, Milley, Biden, Austin, Donahue, McKenzie, etc.

NATO/U.S.A.’s Rhetoric Over The Past Few Months

Anti-Extremism Training, Pronouns, Gender Studies, Lowered Standards. Ya know, the usual.

“Perfect, and opportunity to practice using our cool toys on Russians so that when we use them on US citizens here at home we’ll be good to go.”

buys more Raytheon shares

“Hell yeah, this is a great opportunity to recruit the EXACT type of young adult male that we have been kicking out and demonizing over the past two years”

JOURNALISM

Not This

Information is processed by an analyst using the Intelligence Cycle and a whole host of other analytical techniques

A good analyst will tell you:
What they know, what they don't know, and what they think

This distinction is not always explicitly stated

“Just the facts, Ma’am”

If it includes opinion, it is no longer true journalism

Opinion Does Not Always Equal Bias
